Growth of Private Debt

Increasing Adoption of Alternative Assets Among Institutional Investors

Investors believe alternative assets will continue to play a significant role in their portfolios, with 35% planning to increase their capital investments over the next 12 months¹

Banks Favour Large And Small Borrowers, Neglecting Mid-Market

Large Corporate Borrowers

Commercial banks prefer to extend large corporate loans where dedicated lending teams can focus on working with private equity sponsors and supporting transactions

Private equity-sponsored loans and larger corporate borrowers are better suited to support the vast corporate and personnel infrastructures of commercial banks

Mid-Market Lending

Centurion Financial Trust focuses on mid-size borrowers which are traditionally overlooked by large commercial banks

Small Corporate Borrowers

In responding to government scrutiny over small business lending, commercial banks have developed structured, formulaic, and cost-efficient lending processes to address this market segment

Commercial banks are able to sell multiple bank products to small new corporate borrowers

Benefits of CFiT's Dual Bucket Loan Portfolio

Short-Term Multi-Residential Loans

Mortgage average term to maturity is approx. 1 year

- Mid-size rental apartment developers typically pay a premium for timely access to short term capital
- Centurion's esteemed reputation as a multi-residential lender attracts a steady stream of quality deal flow
- Its specialized multi-residential lending enables it to quickly assess and underwrite quality loans
- These shorter term multi-residential mortgages typically deliver a yield between 7% and 12%
- The yearly repayment of many mortgages also provides the Trust with continuous liquidity

Mid-Term Corporate Loans

Typical corporate loan maturities are 2 to 5 years

- Mid-market enterprises at times require innovative lending to meet complex capital needs for which they will pay a premium
- Centurion's corporate finance team's expertise is in devising such higher yield financings of 2- to 5-year maturities
- Longer term loans promote longer term relationships with borrower businesses which contribute to an ability to better anticipate and respond to a Borrower's changing dynamics
- The team has little pressure to rush its due diligence process and prematurely invest as any undeployed capital is invested in the Fund's mortgage portfolio

Important Information

This communication is for information purposes only and is not, and under no circumstances is to be construed as, an invitation to make an investment. Investing involves risks. There is currently no secondary market through which the units may be sold and there can be no assurance that any such market will develop. A return on an investment is not comparable to the return on an investment in a fixed-income security. The recovery of an initial investment is at risk, and the anticipated return on such an investment is based on many performance assumptions. Although the intent is to make regular distributions of its available cash to Unitholders, such distributions may be reduced or suspended. The actual amount distributed will depend on numerous factors, including financial performance, debt covenants and obligations, interest rates, working capital requirements and future capital requirements. In addition, the market value of the units may decline, and that decline may be material. It is important for an investor to consider the particular risk factors that may affect the industry in which it is investing and therefore the stability of the distributions that it receives. There can be no assurance that income tax laws and the treatment of mutual fund trusts will not be changed in a manner which adversely affects investors.
