Disclaimer Statement

IMPORTANT INFORMATION: This communication is for information purposes only and is not, and under no circumstances is to be construed as, an invitation to make an investment in Centurion Real Estate Opportunities Trust (“REOT”). Investing in Centurion REOT Units involves risks. There is currently no secondary market through which Centurion REOT Units may be sold and there can be no assurance that any such market will develop. A return on an investment in Centurion REOT Units is not comparable to the return on an investment in a fixed-income security. The recovery of an initial investment is at risk, and the anticipated return on such an investment is based on many performance assumptions. Although Centurion REOT intends to make regular distributions of its available cash to Unitholders, such distributions may be reduced or suspended. The actual amount distributed will depend on numerous factors, including Centurion REOT’s financial performance, debt covenants and obligations, interest rates, working capital requirements and future capital requirements. In addition, the market value of Centurion REOT Units may decline if Centurion REOT is unable to meet its cash distribution targets in the future, and that decline may be material. It is important for an investor to consider the particular risk factors that may affect the industry in which it is investing and therefore the stability of the distributions that it receives. There can be no assurance that income tax laws and the treatment of mutual fund trusts will not be changed in a manner which adversely affects Centurion REOT.

PAST PERFORMANCE MAY NOT BE REPEATED. Investing in Centurion REOT Units can involve significant risks and the value of an investment may go down as well as up. There is no guarantee of performance. An investment in Centurion REOT is not intended as a complete investment program and should only be made after consultation with independent investment and tax advisors. Only investors who do not require immediate liquidity of their investment should consider a potential purchase of Units. The risks involved in this type of investment may be greater than those normally associated with other types of investments. Please refer to the Centurion REOT Offering Memorandum for a further discussion of the risks of investing in Centurion REOT.

Solution: Centurion REOT

Focused on capital preservation, growth, and income

- Investors pool their funds to invest in a diversified portfolio and participate in the yield from the mortgage interest income and net profits from the sales of completed multi-residential, student housing, and commercial construction projects
- Diversified geographically across Canada with a focus on income-producing mortgage assets and growth-oriented real estate investments

Solution: Centurion REOT

Objectives

- To provide investors with stable cash distributions, payable monthly, with the opportunity for long-term growth and preservation of capital
- To offer a diversified portfolio of income-producing mortgage assets and growth-oriented real estate investments
- To maximize unit value through the active management of the portfolio
- To leverage on the strategic relationships within Centurion Asset Management Inc.'s network to increase investment opportunities and mitigate risk

What Makes REOT Unique?

- Uses a barbell strategy for a balance between stability, income and growth potential.
 - Portion of portfolio invested in mortgages for stability and interest earnings
 - Portion of portion invested in equity participations in new construction developments for equity growth potential

- Unique opportunity to invest in a fund that in part functions as a “sidecar” to the REIT
 - What is a sidecar? A sidecar is something often seen in the REIT industry whereby the principal executives of a REIT develop properties outside of it then sell the completed development to the REIT and keep any upside to themselves. The Centurion Apartment REIT benefits from this upside by being an investor in REOT and outside investors can also participate by buying into REOT directly
 - Usually reserved to executives/insider shareholders not to outside investors

What Makes REOT Unique?

- Unique risk mitigation characteristics

- REOT's relationship to Centurion Apartment REIT may reduce risks:
 - Many of the projects in REOT are of interest for the REIT to buy, offering a potential exit strategy to developers/partners reducing their selling costs and time to sell, and simplifies the process
 - Expertise and infrastructure to take over loans or construction projects in difficulty
 - Potentially improves the REOT liquidity
- Where possible, equity participation may be structured as debt

- Internal management brings cost efficiencies into the trust

REOT Scale and Efficiencies

- REOT offers scale (currently ~$259M in assets*)
- Offers a diversified portfolio of 1st, 2nd mortgages, and participation in the development of multi-residential and student housing projects of interest to the REIT
- Internal management = lower fees

As of March 31, 2017*

Good Governance

- Governed by a Majority Independent Board of Trustees
- Investment Committee with Independent Board Members in the position of Chairperson with veto on investment
- Independent Board Member cross over between the REIT and REOT ensuring proper checks and controls are in place between the two investment trusts
- Exit negotiations happen between the REIT and 3rd party developer/partner reducing internal conflicts of interest between the REIT and REOT
- Internalized management increases alignment with investors
